

INSPECTOR ANDREWS BEHIND THE BAR

Charles Wants the Boys to Get Full Measure

Enters Saloon to Inspect Big Fives--Proprietor Objects, and Court Follows

Inspector of weights and measures, C. W. Andrews, and Lester Thompson, proprietor of a Market street saloon, will settle an argument before Judge Shines in police court this afternoon as to who is who in the case. The row grew out of a visit of Andrews to the saloon for the purpose of looking over the measures and bottles behind the bar. Thompson claimed to the Herald man today that Andrews rushed into his saloon when the place was full and walked behind the bar and began pulling over the stuff, to which he objected, stating to the inspector that if he would get outside the enclosure, he, Thompson, would help him to anything he could which concerned the inspectors work. He says Andrews refused to budge, and he forced him to exit. Thompson claims the inspector exceeded his authority.

Inspector Andrews says he was within his rights as an officer of the city and that Thompson is in bad. He immediately had a warrant issued for his arrest, charging him with an assault.

From all accounts some old feeling exists between the two and what the outcome will be is a matter that the court will decide today.

MAINE LEGISLATURE REPUBLICAN BY 10 ON JOINT BALLOT

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—Returns from all but 28 small towns give Haines, republican, a plurality of 3557. There are only ten districts to be heard from for representatives and if these should all be democratic victories the republicans would still have a majority on joint ballot. The victory is complete and the only democrat to win is Congressman McGuillcuddy.

MAY CONSOLIDATE WITH OTHER LINES

B. & M. Said to Favor Merging the W., N. & P.

The latest that is going the rounds in railroad circles has it that the management of the Boston and Maine rail road are considering the plan of doing away with the title of the Worcester, Nashua, and Portland division and the consolidation of the line with the several other divisions.

If this plan is consummated it is understood that the section of the W. N. & P. between Ayer and Portland will be put in the Portland division. Ayer to Worcester to the Fitchburg division.

Nashua to Keene and Nashua to Concord Junction to the southern division.

The change if it takes place is likely to occur by the time the Winter schedule goes in effect next month. While this move cannot be verified it is known that the management has for some time been considering the matter of loss divisions and a consolidation of some kind that would take in the W. N. & P.

It is understood that the whole lot when appraised would not bring over $10.00.

MAINE GOES BACK INTO THE REPUBLICAN FOLD

ASHER C. HINDS.

Re-Elected to Congress from First District.

Elected Governor and Republican Legislature and Captures Three Out of Four Congressmen--York County Republican.

The republicans reclaimed the state of Maine in Monday's election, when they elected William T. Haines of Waterville, governor by some over 3,000 majority, and elected three out of the four Congressmen.

At one o'clock this morning, while but in most cases by a reduced majority over two years ago. Portland, Bangor, Lewiston, etc., again showed their position on the prohibition question by going democratic, but their vote was overcome by the increased vote in the towns.

In the first Congressional district, Asher C. Hinds was re-elected by 2,002 majority over Michael O'Brien of Portland. Two years ago Hinds majority was but 602.

In the second district Daniel I. McGuillcuddy, democrat, was re-elected.

P.A.C. OUTING AT RAND GROVE

This is P. A. C. day, and the bright smiles and delightful September weather man's annual offering. At 12:15 the club headed by president George H. McCanley left the club house, marched to Market Square via Court street, State, Middle and Congress and boarded special cars at 12:35 for Rand's Grove. The principal attraction was the clam bake, and this was opened shortly before 2 o'clock with some two hundred hungry members ready for the signal. The star event was the base ball game and that was announced about three o'clock.

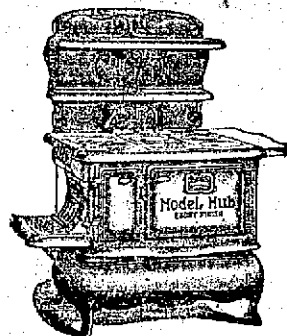

VIEW WORK OF TROOPS.

The old estate of Jacob Wendell, lately purchased by the army department for use in the artillery district of Portsmouth was the scene today of hundreds of sight-seers. From all corners of New Hampshire, the coast artillery division of the New Hampshire National Guard was the magnet of attraction. Portsmouth, Dover, Exeter and Laconia in which the four companies of the corps are located, sent the majority of the sightseers to witness the volunteers in camp and their exemplification of martial life.

In the afternoon the corps was reviewed on the old Wendell estate. Maj. Chauncey B. Hoyt, commanding the corps, Captain Glasgow, commandant of the United States artillery district of Portsmouth, and a representative of the army department were the reviewing officers. Lieut. L. H. Washburn, adjutant on the staff of Major Hoyt, conquered the reviewing exercises. His military ability was publicly commended by the reviewing officers. A company of regular army soldiers and the Military band from the artillery district of Portland also participated in the review.

Gov. Robert P. Bass arrived in this city today and proceeded to the Hotel Wentworth, where he will remain during the tour of duty. Governor Bass and his staff will review the corps either today or Wednesday. The governor will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given Wednesday night by Captain Glasgow.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—During the past few days a canoe race has been the popular diversion of the citizens this season. In the past particularly there have been all kinds of races held—some, too, which cost several lives and all of which seemed foolhardy. In Fairmount park here recently a canoe race between two teams was held. Near the finish of the race the canoes went over the falls. The man who held his seat in the craft was to be proclaimed the winner. However, in this race neither man was able to maintain his seat, they not been expert swimmers the chances are that they both might have been drowned. In New York a short time ago a canoe race was held in which there were a dozen or more entries. There were several upsets, and a few of the contestants came near being drowned.

THE MAINE RETURNS

What may be for some time at least the last vista of a united republican party appeared at the polls in Maine yesterday, and after a close contest recovered control of the state. This suggests that if the Chicago convention had united on any suitable compromise candidate, the republican party would today be making a determined, and without much doubt a very promising contest for the presidency.

The Maine plurality, while not comparable with the republican preponderance in the September of other presidential years since 1880, would have been reassuring in view of the extraordinary lurch in the other direction which the state took two years ago. But no one is justified in inferring from the Maine results yesterday that Mr. Taft is likely to carry the state in November. The republican party, with a united margin may be too close to serve a divided one.

At least it would be strange if the Roosevelt defection did not cost the republican party more than the plurality which it is now able to exhibit.

Still, the republicans have made a plucky fight in the face of tremendous odds. The truce as to the Taft-Bossvelt controversy deprived them of most of the resources of the national organization which in other presidential years have been so potent an influence in bringing out the Maine vote.

The democrats were enthusiastic and well organized, besides amply supplied with help from outside. Their taste of the spoils for the first time in a generation whetted their appetite for a continuance of the feast; and the general atmosphere of democratic confidence insured to their advantage. All these obstacles the republicans have overcome, electing their governor, three out of four congressmen, and perhaps a majority in the legislature, in spite of the gerrymander against them.

These substantial republican recoveries have been made possible by the harmony program.

The republican party still has a mission to perform. Its supporters should exert no energy to restore once more that coherence of forces by which its past victories have been won. Mr. Roosevelt ought to take the advice of senator Chandler and withdraw from the presidential race in the interests of the great historical organization to which he owes so much, and on whose continued life so many of the vital concerns of the nation surely depend.

The Maine returns emphasize the hopelessness of attempting to accomplish anything with forces divided in the face of a united opponent.

Compared with four years ago yesterday's showing affords small ground for expecting republican success in November. This was the story in Vermont. It is repeated in Maine.—Boston Herald.

Benefited Many Who Had Tuberculosis

Those who suffer from Consumption are generally troubled with night sweats, fever, loss of strength and little or no appetite. Fresh air, good food and the proper care of the body are essential to a recovery, but in many cases something more is needed. Bekman's Alternative is a medicine which has been most successful in stopping night sweats, reducing fever and promoting appetite, and many who have used it declare it saved their lives. Investigate what it did in this case.

"Gentlemen: For four years I was troubled with cough, which gradually became worse. I had night sweats and pains in my chest. I was losing my appetite and had become so thin and weak I could not attend to my household duties. A physician pronounced my case Consumption. Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physicians of the Polytechnic Hospital. They also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later by an examination of sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Bekman's Alternative. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks, I had marked relief, night sweats ceased, pain in the breast relieved, cough became loose and easy, fever left me and I commenced getting well. My health became normal. I am in excellent health now and have been completely cured for ten years. I strongly recommend it."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 9.—A call has been issued for the Officers and Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to meet in Boston, September 20th. In the three days session, they will discuss the work of the Chamber and will decide on the date of the Annual meeting. There is a general desire that this shall occur at a time of the year convenient for the majority of business men. There has been some discussion of the idea of having the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States preceded by general commercial rallies in each State of the Union. This would bring under the notice of all parts of the Nation the achievements of development in each State during the year 1912.

General Secretary Eliot H. Goodwin will take part September 10th at Jersey City in the meeting to complete the organization of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce. G. Grosvenor Davis, Chief of Editorial Division, will address the American Roads Congress in Atlantic City September 30th on the relation of commercial organizations to road betterment. The American Association of Commercial Executives will use the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States during their convention in Washington, September 23-25.

BORDER IN A BAD WAY*Troops Massed Along the Border and Trouble Expected.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The tension of the situation along the Mexican border was reflected here today by the continuation of preparations for a new emergency, principally the possibility of President Taft calling a special session of Congress to pass upon the question of intervention.

With the border patrols strengthened by additional cavalry, and other troops practically upon their arms at points throughout the West, ready to move at an hour's notice, to supplement the forces on the Arizona and New Mexico frontier, War Department officials felt they had the situation well in hand for the present.

They were apprehensive, however, of the next move of the rebel General Salazar, encamped within sight of the United States troops, and protesting he meant no harm, but believed to be planning another raid into American territory.

Reports of another revolt in Southern Mexico did not command much interest. It was pointed out that the situation in which the United States is concerned is that along the border. Armed cowboys, acting as volunteer scouts, are patrolling the boundary, while regular troops are concentrated at points where marauders might cross to steal cattle or pillage ranches.

Arms for Americans Held Up.

Arms and ammunition which President Taft authorized exported for use of Americans in danger from rebels at Cananea, have been ordered held up at Douglas, Ariz., until there are assurances that they will not fall into the hands of the rebels.

The arms will be held at Douglas until the railway south, as far as Nogales, is clear of rebels, or until the Mexican Government is able to furnish a guard to insure the safety of the arms.

It is expected here that the immediate effect of rebel interference with the railroad will be to hasten the extra session of the Mexican Senate to authorize the sending of troops out of Mexico and across New Mexico and Arizona to Chihuahua and Sonora.

Gen. Steever, in command of the American border patrol, reports his forces now sufficient to repel any raiders.

Early dispatches to the War Department today reported Salazar, the Mexican rebel leader, encamped across the Arizona line opposite the Long ranch, threatening a raid into American territory. One of his troops, captured in a skirmish, has told American soldiers that raids upon American ranches were upon personal orders of Salazar, who wanted beef for his marauders.

Cavalry Watching Salazar.

In anticipation of a raid by Salazar, Maj. Rice, with three troops of cavalry, is encamped near the rebel leader. Outposts have been established by both sides. Maj. Rice is concentrating his command, but the border is being patrolled by armed cowboys, acting as scouts.

Gen. Steever reported that Lieuts. Johnson, Boone and Wagner, in charge of patrolling parties, had talked with Salazar near Lang's ranch, and that Salazar protested he meant no harm to Americans, and was not with his men on the raid on Cul-bertson's ranch. Gen. Steever's dispatch added that "Johnson does not believe the statement."

Brig. Gen. Murray, commanding the western division, has instructed Brig. Gen. Schuyler to utilize all the troops at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., and has dispatched two troops of cavalry to Apache to strengthen the patrol. Gen. Murray reports that troops are needed, and suggests that part of the 9th Cavalry, on the way from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., be assigned to his command.

The Rebels are reported threatening the city of Torreon. The reported victory of the Federal troops at Nacozari is discredited in a dispatch to the War Department from Gen. Schuyler, who telegraphed it was generally accepted that the Rebels had been paid by the Nacozari Railroad Company to leave the vicinity.

It was added that a number of Americans still remain in the Mormon colony at that place, but refuse to leave until ordered by their bishop.

FRANCE AVIATORS MAKE
NEW WORLD'S RECORD*Win the Bennett Trophy By a Remarkable Flight at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The world's aviation championship, carrying with it the James Gordon Bennett 12,000 franc trophy, donated in 1908, was expected to be settled in Chicago today.

With the American defender, built by a syndicate for the purpose of competing in this race, withdrawn on the eve of the race, the big prize was practically conceded to France, whose team had three monoplanes, each with a speed of more than 100 miles.

The distance is 124.8 miles, or about 30 laps around a 4.14-mile course. The French aviators are Jules Vedrines, Maurice Provost and Andre Frey. The Americans entered were DeLloyd Thompson, Paul Peck and Howard Gill.

Vedrines, driving a Deperdussin monoplane, was the first contestant to start in the race. He got away shortly before 10 o'clock.

Although there was a considerable wind at the time, Vedrines refused to delay his start. He soon reached a speed of 103 miles an hour, according to the presiding officials at the course.

Jules Verhines, driving his monoplane without a stop, finished the course of 124.3 miles in the James Gordon Bennett race in 70m 58.85s, or at the rate of more than 105 miles an hour.

Vedrines' average speed was about 105.5 miles an hour, not quite equal to his previous record. Vedrines completed his flight before noon, spinning 30 times over the 4.14-mile course as smoothly as a swallow veers around a church spire.

Hopes that America still may retain for another year the trophy which was won by Charles T. Weymann at meet on the Isle of Sheppey, Eng., last year, and which is the symbol of the world supremacy, centered in de Lloyd Thompson. Thompson this afternoon will attempt flight in a Nieuport monoplane. It is generally believed, however, his machine will be unable to exceed 70 miles an hour. Uncertainty existed whether any of the other American contestants would be able to start.

The time taken by laps of Vedrines' run showed he kept up a fairly even speed. In the first lap he made the four miles in 2m and 24.58s.

"I have won the trophy," exclaimed Vedrines when he returned to the hangar. "That is practically certain. There is no other machine on the field that can approach my time. It means much to France. Three times before France, which has taken such a prominent part in aviation, has won the trophy captured by either America or England. Now I think we have it."

Owing to the difficulty of reaching the course, 15 miles from Chicago, only a few people saw the flight. Those who did had to walk a mile over the prairies.

Maj. Samuel Hober of New York, chairman of the contest committee of the Aero Club of America, conceded the trophy to France.

"We have not a ghost of a show," he said. "The only question is which one of the Frenchmen will carry off the honor. None of our machines could within 40 minutes of Vedrines' time."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste, and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy disordered stomach, or have headache, and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with cathartic pills, or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a ten cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months.

Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, Get a 10 Cent Box

BAR HARBOR, Me., Sept. 9.—Mrs. John R. McLean of Washington died at her summer home here at 8.30 a. m. today, after being ill a week with pneumonia.

Mrs. McLean survived 11 hours after the arrival of Dr. Llewellyn P. Barker of Johns Hopkins Hospital, who was brought from North Carolina mountains in a special train, at a record-breaking speed.

Mrs. McLean's husband, publisher of the Washington Post and the Cincinnati Enquirer, was at the bedside when she died. Her son, Edward L. McLean, and his wife also were present, together with her brother, Truxton Beale, and her sister, Mrs. Bakhmetoff, wife of the Russian ambassador to the United States.

Dr. Barker, who arrived last evening, found Mrs. McLean very weak. Except for a slight rally about midnight, she steadily lost strength. Shortly before sunrise she became unconscious and remained so until her death at 8.30 a. m. today.

It is planned to hold brief funeral services here. The body will be taken to Washington on a special car to leave Mt. Desert Ferry Wednesday morning.

Mrs. McLean was 58 years old.

Arthur F. Haddock, employed by Edward S. Downs, was taken suddenly ill on Monday, and he is confined to his home under the care of a physician.

THE YOUNG VOTER AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Fred—Good morning, Uncle John. Uncle John—Good morning, Fred. Glad to see you. By the way, what's this I hear about your going over to Roosevelt?

Fred—Oh, Roosevelt's all right. I believe in progress, Uncle John. You old men think we young fellows won't know anything in politics. We're going to reform things, they need it bad enough.

Uncle John—I'd like, Fred, to know your reasons for not sticking to the good, old party. I remember how proud you were, four years ago, when you voted for the first time. You were then for Taft and Sherman.

Fred—It's a free country; and, if I want to vote for the Progressive candidates this year, I suppose I've got a right to.

Uncle John—Of course, Fred, of course. Think for yourself, and do your own voting—only be sure to think. I'm curious to find out what has brought it about that a likely young Republican goes off and joins those who would break up the party. You don't want to elect a Democratic President, do you?

Fred—No, indeed, Uncle John. Seem to me both parties are corrupt. Now this new party is made up of honest men.

Uncle John—Just let me have a reason, or two, for your believing that your Uncle John, for instance is all wrong in holding to the faith that the Republicans are best fitted to govern the country for the next four years.

Fred—Well, I don't mind giving you a reason. In the first place, every body knows that Taft was nominated by fraud. That Convention was for Colonel Roosevelt, only he got cheated out of the nomination by the bosses. Colonel Roosevelt was there on the spot, and saw it done.

Uncle John—Nonsense, Fred! Don't you know that big lot of bogus contents, got up for effect so preposterous that even the Roosevelt men on the committee voted them down. The whole business of this cry of "fraud" is a trick. Go look at the record, and see for yourself. Why, Roosevelt never had a majority of delegates, and couldn't possibly have had. Look at Governor Hadley, he knew the facts, and today he is for Taft. Don't you be humbugged, Fred.

Fred—Well, maybe 'tis as you say, but the Republican party is in the hands of the bosses—corrupt bosses, that are always for the special interests, and against the people.

Uncle John—And so, Fred, you're going to train under the biggest boss of them all? No, you've too much sense to be led away by this foolish talk about "bosses". Roosevelt has used "bosses" all his life—he's been now in his new fangled party, of course; he has. No political party can put up a fight without leaders. Men come to the lead because they're needed, and because they know how to manage a campaign. Suppose a leader here and there abuses his position. Are you going to leave the party? Should Democrats in New York turn Republicans, because of Tammany Hall? Ought Republicans in Pennsylvania to vote the Democratic ticket, because of the Philadelphia "Ring"? No, my boy, your common sense tells you—stay in the ranks, and work inside the party, to correct any evil of this sort!

Uncle John—Now, what do you mean, Fred, by "special interests"? Fred—Oh, you know well enough, Buffalo, N. Y. "When your back is in a corner, the Standard Oil and Lame remember the name."

all these big corporations. The poor man doesn't get any show, Roosevelt fight: the corporations.

Uncle John—Look here, Fred, don't you know that the men who follow Roosevelt are being played right into the hands of such a corporation as The Harvester Trust? What do you suppose that Perkins and Munsey are financing Roosevelt for? You remember Roosevelt wrote to Harriman "We are practical men." It was all right, in 1904, for the Standard Oil to help Roosevelt. People are getting their eyes open, and they begin to see Theodore Roosevelt as he really is. Isn't that so, Fred?

Fred—Well, any way the big corporations are afraid of Roosevelt.

Uncle John—There's one or two he's kind to. Legitimate business dreads Mr. Roosevelt. He's a menace, a terror to men who have to plan for the future—at least, he would be if they were really danger of his election.

Fred—I admit that Mr. Roosevelt sometimes doesn't tell a straight story—he has to much to think about, I guess. He favors social and individual progress. He believes in the moral uplifting of the people.

Uncle John—So does the Republican party—and so do our Democratic friends.

Fred—Yes, but Roosevelt makes this a specialty.

Uncle John—He does till after election.

Fred—To tell the truth, a good deal of this is talk, I'll admit.

Uncle John, Fred, just stop a moment and think what earthly need is there for a new party? Mr. Roosevelt was President for seven years. Why didn't he start some of these wonderful reforms in that time? No, you're right, its talk, talk, vain promises of a man ambitious for office. The American people will never elect a man to a third term of the presidency, Roosevelt is trying to break up the Republican party. He wants to beat Taft. A vote for Roosevelt helps Wilson. You see that, don't you?

Fred—It does begin to look that way.

Uncle John—The Republican party is true to principles its the best friend the working man ever had. It is high wages, under protection, that means prosperity. It is the progressive party, too. Don't forget that.

Fred—Uncle John, I don't mind saying that I've been thinking a good deal, these past few days, and I guess you're about right. I might support Roosevelt if he were a Republican, but now that he is out of the party, I see it's going to be a mistake to follow him. One thing—I can believe just what President Taft says, he means to do about what is right. He has certainly tried to do his duty, and he deserves to be re-elected.

Uncle John—That is so!

Fred—Well, I must go along, Uncle John. Good bye! You may as well put me down, after all, for Taft and Sherman.

Uncle John—Good bye, Fred. That is the ticket that's going to win.

The Boston Globe says: Mrs. Newbeck of New York wants a divorce. One of her allegations is that her husband required her to shine his shoes. It is now expected that the husband's counsel will take advantage of the first opportunity ever offered to classify personal service properly.

Backache pains often come from weak kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Read what a Portsmouth citizen says:

Mrs. Robert Slaney, 30 Court street Portsmouth, N. I can now do my work with ease and have no trouble with my kidneys."

Mrs. Slaney is only one of many Portsmouth people who gratefully endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Notable Men Delegated to Attend the Funeral of the Late Emperor of Japan.

Secretary of State Knox, who, supported by an admiral and a brigadier general, represents the United States at the obsequies of the late mikado, finds himself in notable company. Prince Henry of Prussia is the delegate of the kaiser. King George's representative is Prince Arthur of Connaught, attended by Field Marshal Lord Methuen and an admiral. Emperor Francis Joseph sent Archduke Charles Albert, the twenty-five-year-old son of Admiral Archduke Charles Stephen. France, Russia and Italy likewise sent special missions. This is the first occasion of foreign princes of the blood travelling all the way from Europe to attend the funeral of an oriental sovereign. Prince Arthur is, at the left in the illustration, Secretary Knox in the center and Prince Henry at the right.

As Roosevelt had to assume great knowledge of military matters

General Leonida Plaza has been installed as president of Ecuador. It is needless to say that a resignation is now being suggested to him.

All that has kept Washington from confident expectations concerning the permanent is the necessity of depending on other clubs to defeat Boston.

We should judge our friends and the world at large for that matter, by great virtues rather than small defects.

The Rev. Dr. Aske says we may be thankful for the promise of mansions on high, but what we need is more decent homes on earth and more decent people.

The Japanese idea seems to be to have the Emperor devote his entire attention to affairs of Great Righteousness and leave the business of practical politics in the hands of experts.

The reluctance of Gyp the Blood about returning to New York may be partly due to an inclination to subscribe to the fund for those medals for which Lieut. Fecker is looking forward.

A candidate is strongly tempted to feel that the "big business" interest that "sees" over a big campaign contribution establishing a claim to be considered a good trust.

Governor Marshall of Indiana in accepting the nomination for the vice presidency said: "It is no part of government to boost one man and beat another." The governor is right—even though Teddy Roosevelt makes those who think as he does and booting everybody who doesn't.

Among Mexico's great natural resources is mentioned the greatest oil well in the world in the state of Vera Cruz. It was discovered about a year ago, at a depth of 2000 feet. Its capacity is estimated at about 11,000 barrels a day, but its flow is not permitted to exceed 25,000 barrels daily. Twelve million barrels of oil were lost during the first three months while the well was being put in working order.

A POLICY OF PERIL

Says General Leonard Wood: "We are ready for intervention but we hope that there will be no need for it."

Is Mr. Taft trying to persuade himself to commit the United States to a policy of war in Mexico?

The dispatches from Beverly reiterate that intervention is nearer than date at all first class grocery and meat stores in Portsmouth. The same preparation will enter into the making of the sausage. Call for the Harmon brand at all dealers.

pressure brought to bear upon him by certain interests, and in spite of his first impulses escaped an irretrievable blunder.

As a result of his heroic task in sending a small army to Texas, Mr. Taft found it wise to pledge his word that he would take no step toward intervention without authority from congress.

Congress has just adjourned and the presidential campaign is under way. Who has started this talk at Beverly about intervention being near? Who has hinted that a special session of congress may be called?

Mr. Taft knows that he cannot do safely in Mexico what he has done in Nicaragua on reports of a trouble there which, as Admiral Southernland revealed are exaggerated. Mexico is not the same weak and helpless nation that Nicaragua is. Even if congress tolerated such an abuse of power by the president, the Mexicans would not tamely submit to the invasion of their country by foreign troops. If he were to prevail upon congress to give him authority to intervene in Mexico, Mr. Taft's first use of force would precipitate a long and costly war. If he does not realize that he knows nothing of the character of the Mexican people or of their country. It would not be, as in Nicaragua, merely a matter of landing parties of marines and taking control. It would not be the holiday expedition for the glorification of politicians.

Mr. Taft is too sane and too judicious deliberately to seek war with Mexico. Dollar diplomacy has preyed well sapped the faith of the Latin American people in the honesty of the intentions of the United States. Any act of open aggression toward our southern neighbors. No matter what virtuous professions the United States might offer in advance would make of them confirmed enemies for years to come.

If Mr. Taft gets into difficulty in Mexico and makes the United States bear the consequences, it will not be because of any popular demand for armed intervention. The unseen forces that are pushing him in that direction are governed by material interests. They are not deterred by the desire of the American people to live at peace with Mexico and to add to its profit in its own way by prosperity and progress.

To Mr. Taft the one paramount fact should be that intervention by force of arms in Mexico means war.—New York World.

DOCKSTADER'S JOKE DIDN'T "GO" WITH NASHUA POLICEMAN

NASHUA, Sept. 10.—Lew Dockstader the well known conductor of minstrel shows, was made a defendant tonight in an action brought by Napoleon Dillard an officer of the Nashua police force, who alleges that he was slandered in the course of a show given in this city Thursday night.

The ad damnum mentioned in the warrant is $5000. Dockstader was placed under arrest at Manchester Monday afternoon and it is reported that some difficulty in getting the necessary bonds.

His counsel, William J. Starr of Manchester, went to Concord tonight to attempt to persuade Judge John M. Mitchell to decrease the bail. Stephen L. Hallahan of this city is counsel for Mr. Dillard.

The story of the mixup is as follows. Lew Dockstader's minstrel show played at Nashua Thursday night. The day before, one of the days of the fair, a woman had her pocket picked while riding on a Crowa Hill car. Descriptions of two men were given to the police by the conductor, and the woman and the officer were on the lookout.

Thursday Dillard arrested two fellows, in his opinion answering to the description given. He turned out that these men were both members of the minstrel troupe and when this was learned the other members of the company went to the station and proceeded to establish an alibi. The men were allowed to go and the police were satisfied to let the matter drop.

The members of the minstrel show were not so easily satisfied, however, and it is alleged, at the show Thursday evening they proceeded to get rid of a lot of jokes at the expense of the policeman. Some of these were decidedly uncomplimentary.

Mr. Dillard was not present in the audience at the time. There were, however, a number of well known people, including police commissioner and Mrs. Wingate. The information was shortly afterward imparted to Mr. Dillard, who promptly made himself the plaintiff in the suit mentioned.

PRESIDENT TAFT HERE ON MONDAY

President Taft passed through this city at four o'clock on Monday afternoon, on his way back from Biddeford, Maine, where he passed Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Taft.

The president was accompanied by his wife and in a car ahead was his aide and a secret service man. Very few people recognized the president as he passed through the city.

On the Square Traffic Officer Shannon signaled to the driver of the President's car to slow down, which he did.

WHERE WAS THE CAPTAIN?

Everybody who knows Capt. Muchmore of the Veteran Firemen fame are asking where the captain and his crew were on Saturday and why he did not try to win a prize at Salisbury with his machine. It certainly was a time in his life when he could shine. Rumors has it that had he connected with the right crew he would have been on the playing stand and established a new record for his pet machine.

AN EVENING OF PLEASURE.

Fine Bill at The Portsmouth Theatre

There have been so many good acts at the Portsmouth Theatre the past and present months that it is hard to particularize, but it is doubtful if any have been more warmly received than the Three Society Girls. The young ladies received numerous encores and they were instant favorites with the capacity audience.

Miss Richards announced as the Queen of the Wire was certainly all that and some more. She has a pleasant personality and made a hit with her clever work. The pictures were superb and were perfectly shown. The method of day-light photo plays at this theatre has won deserved praise.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connell of Burdett Street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, born on Monday afternoon at the Portsmouth Hospital. Mother and child are doing well.

CRITICIZES NAVY DEPARTMENT

Manchester Union Says that Radical Changes Should Be Made

The local correspondent of the Union has the following editorial letter in regard to the navy which contains some facts and many misstatements. The Herald prints it as being of interest.

The American sailor is disorganized and demoralized. The navy yard employee is disgruntled and dissatisfied.

The naval administration has caused an irreparable blow to the navy of this country. And only an outbreak that will arouse the inherent patriotism of the American citizen will ever return the navy to a complete complement. There is a smaller number of long service men in the navy than ever before in its history. Those and other bold assertions are freely made by the enlisted men, from the warrant officer to the able seaman, stationed at the Portsmouth navy yard. The assertions are made in answer to the department's call for men and to the department's method of imposing additional laborious work upon the men who now constitute the navy.

Local adherents of the navy yard in addition to the men who man the ships, say that the navy has reached a crisis. Portsmouth business men and the laborers dependent upon the yard for their existence are up in arms. In view of the reduction of labor up into the yard, the Portsmouth Board of Trade and Mechanics' Exchange has forwarded petitions to the congressmen of New England asking them to lend their aid in causing the department to allow this yard the building of a battleship provided in the naval appropriation bill.

Their appeals and demands have become more insistent this week because of an order received from the naval department which will cause the discharge or furlough of practically all navy yard employees during the first two weeks of October at least.

In this order the department says that there will be no cause to retain employees during the first two weeks of October when the fleet is mobilized at New York Navy yard foremen say that practically all their men except watchmen, will be allowed to go during that time, and that only the employees who are rated "double excellent" in conduct and workmanship will be recalled. The navy department assures the men that there will be considerable work after the maneuvers at New York but the men give little credence to that assurance. Few or men are actually employed at the yard today than in a score of years.

A warrant officer who rose from the ranks, and who requests that his name be withheld, said yesterday that the navy is short by at least 5000 men and that there is little likelihood that the present number of men will be materially increased.

Recruiting stations in the interior districts are annexing comparatively few men.

This failure of the contributing stations is attributed to the fact that the men retiring from the navy to their country homes are informing their neighbors to the conditions in the navy that are alleged to exist.

Several battleships and big cruisers are in reserve or ordinary at the various stations because the department cannot find enough sailors to man them.

The duty imposed upon the crew of the North Carolina while the big cruiser has been stationed at told by the warrant officer is a striking example of the work forced upon the enlisted men, who at the time of his enlistment is given to understand that little work will be required of him.

After the cruiser reached port the men were called upon to scale the ship. That work completed they were ordered to scale two colliers then at the yard.

At various times they have been assigned to haul and tow the ships at the yard from one dock or pier to another.

Their latest duty has been to scrub the big stone dry dock at the yard.

A surgeon of the cruiser informed the department that the marine growth in the dock would undoubtedly spread the germs of typhoid. Accordingly the over worked bluejackets were ordered to clean the dock, which is 750 feet long, approximately 200 feet wide and 50 feet deep. In addition to this general work the sailors have gradually seen their routine of work on board the ships increased. Each time more work is added to their lot a means of employment is subtracted from the navy yard employee.

The sailor is not re-enlisting. The percentage of ten year men in the navy is said to have decreased several hundred per cent.

Sheriff Makes Early Morning Call in a Society Event at Deerfield

Deputy sheriff Shaw and County Solicitor Gupill were called to Deerfield late on Monday on a complaint against Arthur J. Knowles and his wife. Arthur and his wife had been conducting a souse party at their home and when the officers arrived there was evidence of a pink tea. Arthur and Mrs. Knowles showed the effects of the society gathering and the officers decided that an early morning joy ride would add a fitting climax to the gay event. They arrived here at 3 a m and after a much needed rest Judge Shmes took a look at the society leaders of the Deerfield district. The result was that there will be a hull in the gay season until Mr. and Mrs. Knowles concludes three months visit in another part of the county, where sheriff Spiney will entertain them till the winter holiday season is on.

No tokens of value issued by any concern in Washington come so near being actual hard cash as do the street car tickets, which sell six for a quarter. The stock market may go up or down; the cost of living may fluctuate; interest rates may vary; the purchasing power of that standard of all values, gold itself, may be more today than tomorrow; but through it all, in hard times and good times alike, the little coupons cost just the same and get the buyer just as much. Like postage stamps, they have a fixed price; below which no one can buy them and above which no one can sell them. Like postage stamps, also, they are "good for one fare." In the very act of giving which they are canceled at once, and their usefulness is gone forever.

Millions of dollars are represented by these humble bits of pasteboard. Between 80,000,000 and 90,000,000 of them—almost one for every person in the United States—are circulated in the district every year. In all, between 80 and 85 per cent of all money received by these companies for the transportation of passengers in the district is first exchanged for car tickets, which are accepted unquestionably by all conductors.

Washington street railroad officials attribute the entire immunity from imitation which their tickets enjoy to the great care with which they are gotten up, as well as the strict methods of accounting for all those issued. These causes, of course, are in addition to the severe penalties which the law visits upon counterfeiting.

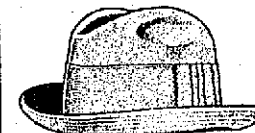

Danish Pudding.

One pint dried bread crumbs; roll fine; put tablespoon butter into fry basin, mix crumbs with half cup sugar and brown in fry basin. Make a pint or more of apple sauce, sweeten, flavor with fresh lemon, put layer of sauce and layer of bread crumbs into pudding dish; when the dish is full put melted butter on the top; bake half hour, then let the pudding gel cold and cover with whipped cream. It is better to make the day before it is to be served. It is improved by putting a little fruit spice into the pudding before baking.

Backslider

to Dingbat Town

A slide:

from health to ill-health

A great many people have tried the slide, who didn't know exactly what they would get in "Dingbat-Town."

The coffee drinker is quite certain to get some kind of a "bat." It may be in stomach, liver, heart, bowels, eyes, kidneys or some other organ, for the bad effects of the caffeine in coffee locate in a variety of organs in different people.

Many people who knew this some time ago quit coffee and commenced Postum.

Then, because they found trouble in having Postum prepared suitably at hotels and elsewhere, they gave it up and went back to coffee, thinking, "Now I am well and can stand it."

So they became backsliders and when they slid into "Dingbat-Town," symptoms of the old troubles began to show again; they found it difficult to return to Wellville.

Now comes

as one sure way to get back.

Instant Postum is in powder form--made from regular Postum and contains the same nourishing ingredients;--you simply stir a level teaspoonful into a cup of hot water and instantly have a perfect cup of Postum; it has a delicious mellow flavour and is free from the coffee drug, Caffeine.

It can be made anywhere that hot water can be obtained; in hotels, on the train, in the office--its high, rich quality is constantly uniform.

Tins holding about enough for 100 cups are sold for 50 cents by grocers. Smaller tins at 30 cents, make about 50 cups.

Ordinary coffee costs about twice as much.

A two cent stamp to cover postage will carry to you a 5 cup sample tin free

MORE WITNESSES IN THE LAWRENCE CASE

Grand Jury Hears Several New Witnesses, Among Them a Reporter.

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Dist. Atty. Pelletier resumed the investigation of the plot to place the dynamite case today before the Grand Jury. He had eight witnesses to call.

He effect of his threat to indict any person who withholds information in regard to the plotting of dynamite in Lawrence at the time of the strike is being watched with interest. It is the first time a prosecuting attorney has demanded information under threat of indictment, if he learned that anyone had knowingly withheld any facts after he had asked for them. He intends to press the inquiry vigorously, with a dent closed by the sentence of John J.

The peculiar curve of the handle so fits the hand that you get an unusually firm grip, absolutely preventing vibration and permitting a natural, sweeping, DIAGONAL STROKE.

This razor is better finished than razors costing many times as much, and will give you more real satisfaction than any razor you can buy, no matter what the price.

Mr. Pelletier says he never knew nor met Mr. Pitman until he saw him at his office. It was stated at the time the investigation began and Pitman committed suicide that the latter had confessed in the office of the district attorney a few days before he ended his life to the part he played in the plot.

The statement of Mr. Pelletier follows: "Regarding a statement in the press that Mr. Pitman was an old friend of mine, and that he met me at Young's Hotel, where I learned his story, I want to say emphatically that this is an absolute misstatement. I never knew nor saw Mr. Pitman until he came to my office in the Court-house and told me his story in my official capacity."

ANTHRACITE FIVE MILLION TONS SHORT

Many of the Miners Who Stopped Work on April 1 Have not Returned to Their Places.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Officials of the big coal companies say that many of the miners who stopped work on April 1 have not returned to their places and that because of the lack of labor anthracite production will fall short about five million tons. This, together with the shortage caused by the two and a half months' cessation of work, brings the year's shortage to $5,000,000 tons.

A FEW FACTS ABOUT LIVER TROUBLE

A dull sluggish liver always brings a dull sluggish feeling to the entire body. When the liver works properly the blood courses through the body in a bright red stream.

When the liver is inactive the blood becomes dull and muddy, and is full of poisonous matter. A great many people try to get a fine, clear, pink and white complexion by rubbing things on their faces. They might rub a lifetime and the same yellow complexion would remain, for the liver causes it.

Only bright, red blood, brings fine complexions. Blood loaded with impurities from the liver sends the impurities out through the pores of the skin and turns the skin a brownish yellow.

To get rid of the dull, heavy feeling, and muddy, yellow complexion get the liver to working again.

Two 50 cent bottles of BLOODINE will do it nine times out of ten. If you are troubled with constipation and straining use BLOODINE LIVER PILLS with the BLOODINE.

SEC. KNOX CORDIALLY GREETED IN JAPAN

TOKIO, Japan.—The United States secretary of state, Philander C. Knox, was received here today with the utmost cordiality.

The armored cruiser Maryland with Mr. Knox on board entered Yokohama harbor about 3 o'clock. A distinguished company of Japanese officials of the highest rank greeted the secretary warmly and accompanied him on the short journey by rail from Yokohama to the capital.

Troops of cavalry escorted him from the wharf to the Shimabashi station in Yokohama and again from the Kyobashi station to Tokyo to the Imperial hotel. The Maryland was escorted up the harbor by the Japanese battleship Jiji and the armored cruisers Iwate and Tokiwa.

TO ESTABLISH AN EXPERIMENT STATION

Washington, D. C. Sept. 9, 1912.

Secretary Wilson of the United States Department of Agriculture has decided to establish an experiment station on the Manli National Forest near Ephraim, Utah, for the study of grazing and water protection problems. In fact bids for the construction of the necessary buildings have been received and it is expected to have the station in working order before winter. Already the gathering of observations on the relations of erosion and run-off to the forest cover have begun.

The Manli National Forest was chosen as the site for this experiment station because it offers exceptionally good opportunities for investigating problems of practical value in connection with regulated grazing. Ephraim and other towns in its neighborhood have suffered severely from floods following violent rainstorms in the mountains, and it has already been proved conclusively that the overgrown condition of areas on which the natural vegetative cover has been seriously altered is responsible for the formation of torrents and the rapid discharge of debris-laden floodwaters. In a recent destructive storm the water ran clear from a part of the watershed which was within the National Forest, and in good condition as a result of well regulated grazing, while from other areas it swept down sand and boulders. One of the objects of the study will be to learn how the maximum of grazing use of National Forest land can be obtained without injury to forest reproduction and stream flow.

The National Forests provide range for a part or all of the year for a considerable part of the stock produced in the western States. Approximately one and one-half million head of cattle and horses and seven and one-half million head of sheep and goats occupy the Forest lands each year. These figures do not include nearly three hundred thousand calves and over four million lambs and kids for which permits are not required.

The experts of the Department believe that when the ranges which were denuded by many years of improper use are restored to a normal condition of productivity it will be possible to provide feed for a much larger number of stock without injury to forest growths or watersheds, and both the stockgrower and the consumer of meat products will thus be benefited. Consequently every effort is being made to determine practical means of regenerating depleted ranges. All of the studies which are about to be initiated have this point in view.

CAME FROM THIS CITY.

In police court in Dover Monday two young autoists from Portsmouth were each charged with refusing to stop their automobile Sunday when signaled by Motorcycle Officer Jones. Each entered a plea of not guilty.

Officer Frank W. Jones testified:—Was on duty on the Dover Point road yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, was on Huckleberry Hill, when three machines came up. I signaled the machines to stop, one stopped and the other two refused to stop, two of the machines were running fast where the other was running at a reasonable speed. After they refused to stop I followed them. I should say they were running 30 miles an hour. Hon. John H. Neatly testified:—I was on Dover Point road and saw Officer Jones signal the two machines; they were running at a very fast rate of speed, when the officer signaled them. The two respondents after hearing the evidence in the case each retracted his former plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty.

The court then ordered each of the respondents to pay a fine of $25 and costs total of $32.50 and to stand committed to the house of correction until paid.—Dover Democrat.

TRY TO BE ORDERLY

HAVE PLACE FOR EVERYTHING AND KEEP IT THERE.

The Topsy-Turvy Girl Finds It Hard to Live or Work in Cramped Quarters—Be Neat at Any Cost.

It is hard to keep crowded quarters neat, as the girl of one room or the housekeeper of a small house sorrowfully knows. In days when there were great linen chests, huge closets and fewer belongings, the problem was simpler. Then our grandparents made a fetish of neatness.

It only in the interest of one's nerves a place for everything needed should be cultivated. It is not restful to hunt madly for gloves or overshoes; to make hay in a drawer in desperate search for a missing article; to turn a household upside down with frantic cries, "Mother, where is my hat?" "Who's taken my mileage book?" "I know I'll miss the train."

The girl who works must be neat and to order. Mere surface cleanliness will not do. If there is lack of system there are sure to be painful mistakes and sharp reprimands. For her own sake a girl should be orderly; the time taken hunting one's belongings is that much time lost. Work in arrears is bad business.

The easiest way to be orderly is to learn that it is as easy to put an article in one place as another. It is not difficult to acquire places for everything and keep those things placed. The easy-going girl does not realize until she has a reputation for being sloven how far from nice she is.

Another cure for disorder is elimination. Cut down your belongings. If you live in cramped quarters make the elimination drastic. It is surprising how much we can get along with out. To own no more things at one time than one needs means a more placid life.

If naturally careless, and without early training in neatness, a woman should take herself severely in hand. She should determine to be neat at any cost. This means living more slowly. Half the secret of misplaced belongings is planning more for our day than there are hours for accomplishment. The woman who rushes from one engagement to another leaves a trail of scattered belongings and upset rooms.

FIGURES OF INTEREST

DEPARTMENT STATISTICS THAT ARE NOT DRY AS DUST.

The Latest Contribution Comes in a Communication From France, and Is an Exhaustive Analysis of the Human Anatomy.

Over at the department of agriculture where statistics are a habit there is a daily flood of printed matter from every quarter of the globe. These contributions to the compilation of statistical information in the hands of Uncle Jim Wilson's calculators are for the most part dry as dust, but once in a while the mail brings in something worthy of mention. The latest information of human interest comes in a contribution from France. It was printed in an editorial in the Bulletin des Hautes, the Parisian retail market register, it follows:

"Contents of the human body: 'Compilers of statistics know no bounds. One of our most brilliant physicist, whose speculations in the region of human chemistry have led him to make most exhaustive researches, has analyzed the human anatomy into its convertible components. He reports as follows:

"A normal man of 140 pounds contains in reducible nutritive principles the equivalent of 12,000 hen's eggs.

"The gas of the human organism is sufficient to inflate a balloon of 10,000 cubic feet.

"A human body contains sufficient iron to make four nails of five centigrams weight.

"A man of this weight contains enough fat to make 75 candles and leave over enough grease to make scraps of Marseilles soap.

"There is a sufficient quantity of phosphorus to make 8,045 boxes of parlor matches.

"The hydrogen portion of the human gas content would fill a balloon that would lift the weight of the contributor.

"In addition to the foregoing the human body contains also six teaspoonsful of salt, a basin of sugar and 32 quarts of water."

With characteristic French cynicism the analyst concludes: "What's the use? When all's said and done, the human organism with all these valuable contents, could not be pawned at the Monte de Piete for three sous."

SALT A SPLENDID TONIC COMFORT IN TRAVELER'S TEA

Nervous People Should Take a Salt Rub Twice a Day—Many Uses for Mineral.

If food is tasteless without salt, it is ruined with too much. Unappetizing cooking is often due to guesswork. A level teaspoonful of salt is sufficient for a quart of soup, sauce, or vegetable.

Salt used once a day is an excellent tonic, tending to keep off tartar. It is said to retard receding gums.

A half teaspoonful of salt added to a cup of hot water—which many persons take each morning—will make it palatable.

Do not gargle with salt-water. Throat specialists consider it injurious to the tender mucous members of the nose.

Salt water rinses the hair; so never fail to rinse with fresh water after sea bathing.

To set color in wash materials and embroidery cottons soak them in strong salt water.

An excellent tonic for nervous people is to take salt rubs twice a day. As sea salt dissolves slowly, some of it can be kept in solution in a glass jar to be ready when needed. The entire salt bath is also good.

Where a child is inclined to howl or to have a weak back, rub it night and morning with strong salt water.

A faded carpet is freshened if wiped off with a wet cloth wrung from strong salt water. Sprinkle floor with dampened salt and sweep well.

Dyspepsia can be helped by dissolving pinches of salt on the tongue after eating, or when there is a sense of oppression.

TIMELY ICE BOX MAXIMS

Some Things Worth Remembering When Putting Food Away in the Refrigerator.

All cooked food should be cooled as soon as possible before being placed in the ice box. Butter may be kept from taking on the flavors of other food by keeping it in a tightly covered receptacle.

Milk requires more access of air, but in a clean ice box in which no strong smelling food is kept milk should remain unharmed in flavor for twelve to twenty-four hours. If vegetables or other foods of pronounced odor are kept in glass jars with covers or in covered earthenware receptacles there will be fewer odors to be communicated.

Portions of canned goods should never be put into the ice box in the tin can. Such food does not of necessity develop a poisonous product, as has sometimes been claimed, but experiments show that tomatoes are particularly liable to develop in such cases.

Paint Remover.

Women who are hovering around household furniture with pots of paint during these summer days will be glad of the information that common salt combined with brown soap and hot water, will remove the paint from their fingers after their task of touching up scratched corners is finished.

Enamel paint, if not got off immediately, leaves on the hands a heavy deposit that from white turns a pale gray blue, and will resist even turpentine and ammonia. The salt should be used before the paint dries and its use should not be stinted.

Good Way to Use Cold Boiled Fish.

Boil three medium sized potatoes. Chop them and fry them with half an onion, or one very small, in as little butter as possible to use. Remove skin and bones from boiled fish, separate it into small pieces and mix with the fried potatoes. Moisten with half a cup of white sauce if you have it, if not, use milk. Season with pepper and salt, and a minute or two before serving pour in two well beaten eggs and mix thoroughly. Garnish with parsley and serve very hot.

Tongue Sandwiches.

Chop cold boiled tongue very fine; mix with sauce tartare and use to spread any variety of bread prepared for sandwiches. Chicken may be mixed with the tongue. Boston brown bread or plain white bread are both good for this purpose. If sauce tartare is not available, use chopped capers, olives, cucumber pickles (mustard pickles at discretion), onions and parsley with the tongue, and moisten with creamed butter.

Liberty Cake.

Beat yolks of two eggs and one-half cup milk. Beat the white stiff and add to them one cup sugar, three tablespoons butter, one teaspoon lemon extract, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Beat well and bake in shallow pan. Raisins or coconut may be added. If coconut is added it makes it very nice.

When Making Quilts.

It is an impossibility to successfully wash quilts without having the cotton filling become matted and lumpy. If the cotton batting is covered with cheesecloth and tied before the final covering is knotted over the cotton, the latter may be removed at any time and washed.

Spiced Figs.

Seven pounds of figs, 3½ pounds of sugar, one quart of vinegar. Wash figs, boil them in salt and water, as for vegetables, for half an hour, drain them carefully and add to the syrup.

And While in Lore of Creature Comfort Never Forget Far With-out Her Own Tea Caddy.

In travel, both at home and abroad, there is great comfort in your own cup of tea. On the steamer, particularly, you miss your own brand and the well-versed traveler who is also in the lore of creature comforts never wanders far from home, without her tea caddy. It adds greatly to her popularity. "Of, if I only had a soul cup of tea," is the general cry on shipboard and then this far-sighted woman produces the cheering leaves, and she becomes the center of attraction, and has her little coterie every afternoon. There are some who prefer it for the morning meal, too, instead of the usual mediocre coffee with condensed milk.

For this poignant need of the traveler, a charming little tin box of mahogany containing a small silver tea caddy and a little tea ball, reproducing a miniature tea kettle, has been put upon the market. It is very simple in arrangement, compact, and easy to pack and makes a really practical gift.

There are many places on the continent where good tea is a real luxury, and many an unsophisticated American is astonished when she pays her bill for what she considers a very simple repast. She finds that her cup of tea costs more than a very elaborate dessert, and so it is a great economy as well as comfort to carry "our own tea with you."

HINTS ON CANNING GREENS

Method Which If Followed Carefully Will Insure Success Every Time.

Many things used for greens may be canned by the following method: Pick over carefully and wash the leaves; mixture of kinds is desirable; cook in boiling salted water as for the table until nearly done; do not have much water, but cook in closed kettles to make the steam do the work. Then pack closely in jars and pour over them boiling vinegar to fill every space, then seal tightly as any other canning. Pack the greens closely in the jar, and when pouring in the boiling vinegar, run a knife blade around the edge in order to open up the spaces for the vinegar. Wrap each jar in brown paper, or put into paper bags, and keep as other canned fruits. Spinach, mustard, chard, beet and other greens are put up in this way. Commoner.

Tomato Sauce.

One cup strained tomatoes, two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, quarter teaspoonful salt, sprinkle with pepper. Melt the butter, add flour, blend thoroughly; add gradually strained tomato, stirring constantly. Boil three minutes or more. Season with salt and pepper. If desired, a little chopped onion may be fried with the butter and removed before adding flour, and have baked crackers with it. Split round crackers in halves, spread a thin layer of butter on the inside. Place them the buttered side up in a pan and brown in a hot oven. Serve plain or with tomato sauce or any kind of soups or oyster stew.

Chicken Fat is far better than butter to use in making a white sauce when creaming chicken.

Always lower the temperature of the oven somewhat fifteen or twenty minutes after a roast has been placed in it. This will insure that the juices be retained.

On rainy days, when it becomes necessary to dry clothes within doors, use your theoretical knowledge that heat rises and hang them as high up as possible.

Gooseberries and Cream.

Pick off stems, thoroughly wash and carefully drain on a cloth a quart fresh, sound, large gooseberries; place on a dish, sprinkle two tablespoons powdered sugar over, lightly mix; whisk 1½ gills cream till well thickened but not quite to a froth, adding two tablespoonsful sugar; whisk for a minute, pour over the gooseberries and serve.

Tea Ice Cream.

Boil a quart of milk and then pour it over one ounce of tea leaves; let steep covered for five minutes. Strain into a bowl over a caramel made of two ounces of sugar. Beat the yolks of eight eggs with one-half pound of powdered sugar; stir the milk into this mixture, and place the whole over the fire, gently stirring until it thickens.

DAINTY TABLE FAVORS

SUGGESTIONS FOR TEAS TO FORTHCOMING BRIDES.

Family Taste and Ingenuity Shown in Knickknacks of Uncommon Cleverness—Pure White for Novelties.

The teas given to forthcoming brides are graced by the most charming favors. The heat of the brides are bought at the high-class confectioners, where they are to be found in a more novel and elegant form than elsewhere, but smart florists also show some very pretty things for this purpose, as well as most of the large department stores. Here and there, too, one sees a tea table embellished with homemade knickknacks of uncommon cleverness, some of these imitating the shop articles, and some inspired by the family's own taste and ingenuity.

As the bride's newest bouquet is to be in pyramid form, little corsage knots are made in this shape of artificial flowers. Various tiny posies are mixed together, wee pink buds, red roses, or yellow ones, forget-me-nots in several shades of blue, pansies in all colors. The most delicate green is used with these, fragile bits of asparagus fern and other feathery things and small leaves. When the little bouquet is made up in the pointed shape, it is inclosed in a horn of lace-edged paper and the handle tinelled. All of the flowers used are very cheap just now, and for the paper holders, when the pretty things are made at home, many girls buy the packages of round lace-edged paper used upon cake and bonbon dishes and sold at ten cent stores. If there are to be men guests at the function boutonnières for them are made up in the same manner. The rounds of paper need to be cut the required size and the edges pasted together. Such corsage knots and boutonnières are permissible for any smart tea, dinner or luncheon.

The novelties strictly for bridal use are always in pure white. There are tiny dolls dressed as brides, wedding trunks, slippers, little satin bags containing rice or confetti, wedding bells, wee automobiles holding flowers or candy, etc. Occasionally a groom in black get-up, with the traditional white boutonniere, is shown in this snowy gathering, and one such little gentleman adds a very realistic note to the decorations of the table. Painted figures on cardboard bedeck place cards, the brides, bridesmaids and black-coated men all cut out and held up by a little rest at the back of the card. The cards are very easy to make if anybody in the family has a gift for water-color painting, and when they are printed they are cheap enough.

Dates stuffed with peanut butter and then rolled in sugar are a pleasing change from dates stuffed with nuts.

If a curtain or portiere pole is rubbed with hard soap before being put up the draperies will slip on easily.

Dates and figs cut in small pieces and served with plenty of sugar make a tasty accompaniment to a dish of rice boiled in milk.

Cheese may be kept soft and good for a long time if wrapped in a cloth wrung out in vinegar and then wrapped again in dry cloth.

Whole wheat or brown bread cut into very thin slices and spread with unsalted butter is tasty served with oysters on the half shell.

Strange as it may seem, beef may be kept for months if immersed in sour milk. The lactic acid destroys the germs of putrefaction.

Scraps of toilet soap should be saved and when half a cupful or so is on hand it is a good plan to make the scraps into a soap jelly.

Use hot milk instead of cold when mashing potatoes and they will be fluffier.

Chicken fat is far better than butter to use in making a white sauce when creaming chicken.

Always lower the temperature of the oven somewhat fifteen or twenty minutes after a roast has been placed in it. This will insure that the juices be retained.

On rainy days, when it becomes necessary to dry clothes within doors, use your theoretical knowledge that heat rises and hang them as high up as possible.

Cannot Conform Rumor.
Rumor about the yard for the past few days has it that the cruiser San Francisco shortly to arrive here would later be used as a prison ship to convey the court martial men from the fleet and several stations to this yard to save railroad transportation charges. If any vessel is assigned to such duty it is not likely that the San Francisco will be selected as the vessel for such work owing to the fact that this vessel has recently been converted to a mine layer at a great expense. The officers at the yard could not confirm anything relative to such a move on the part of the department.

Many Officers Among the Guest.

NAVY MUST BE RECRUITED.
Department Looking for Sailors, as Enlisted Force is Nearly 6000 Men Below Normal Strength.

Washington, Sept. 9.—With the enlisted force of the Navy nearly 6000 men below its normal strength, the Navy Department today began an active campaign to get recruits for the fighting ships.

The total enlisted force is 46,766, or 3634 less than required by law. One of the chief causes for the falling off was the long delay by Congress in passing the Naval Appropriation bill, but this was complicated by the heavy demand for men on farms in the Middle West.

The Navy, however, is looking forward to the autumn, when hundreds of men probably will be thrown out of work. Steps have been taken to establish recruiting in Denver, Salt Lake City and Richmond, Va., while traveling parties have been sent into the country.

THE HERALD ALWAYS FINDS THE GOODS

Do the Herald ads pay and bring results? They certainly do. On Monday night the following advertisement appeared in the Herald columns:

FOUND—Saturday evening, Sept. 7, a pocket book containing sum of money, prayer book, and rosary beads. Owner may have same by applying to Michael Keefe, Jones' Brewery Co., and paying for this advertisement.

The Herald ad worked quick, said Mr. Keefe, to the Herald man this morning as he handed over the price of inserting the above notice. In less than an hour after the Herald was printed I handed over the purse to the owner." The Herald did the trick and not only works wonders in its advertising columns but the people of Portsmouth have got to read it if they want the news.
